SCME58 Ymateb gan: | Response from: Gary Jones

More AM's at a time that we are facing a cost of living crises, at a time when the Welsh Government is cutting funding for education.

Timing seems stupid, almost arrogant .

The general public are getting fed-up of what appears to be politicians out of touch with the reality of working people having to use food banks in order to feed their families, of living hand to mouth and struggling to ensure survival.

Politicians are ignoring the normal peoples problems and we now have too many liberal minded do gooders introducing more and more a totalitarian nanny state.

Find out what real people's real issues are.

Its all very well visiting a food bank, try living a life where you are dependant upon one.
