SCME67 Ymateb gan: | Response from: Jayne Dingle

Hello

Whilst I support having a devolved Government, I do not support it growing in size at the present time.

It feels like the wheels of everything are grinding too slowly in Wales right now, the NHS & Social Care is in a mess, services can't cope (schools, GPs etc), public transport is failing, yet we have seen an inordinate amount of Welsh Government funding being spent on a default 20mph, with Councils having to apply for exemptions (many of which are Labour, so won't!)

This was completely unnecessary and managed abysmally in my opinion. Retaining a 30mph default and Councils expanding 20mph zones would have been far more sensible - and cost less.

The biggest issue in all of this though is the belligerent attitude of most MS. The Welsh public is not being listened to, so why would I support more MS's being appointed?

Please register my opposition and let my views be known to all MS.

Thank you

Jayne Dingle
