Dear William,

Thank you for your letter of 18 June regarding the Cardiff Coal Exchange.

A draft feasibility study has been prepared by our consultant in association with Economy Science and Transport and CADW officials, and subject to final refinements, is expected to be completed very shortly. I am happy to share the report with you once it is available.

The firm appointed to carry out this initial study was selected from my department's established consultancy framework and are able to provide comprehensive and strategic advice in the areas of building surveying and cost management, in addition to experience of historic buildings. Officials from CADW have been fully engaged in the project to date.

I hope to be able to write to you again very shortly regarding the completed feasibility report.

Edwina Hart
