I would like to object against this reform bill, we seem to be being run by a Welsh government who don't want to listen to the people that elected them.

Why would we at this time want all the added expense of paying for yet more members when there has been complete financial mismanagement due to unnecessary policies and wasted money on cancelled projects.

We as a country cannot afford the support all these additional senedd members, the current group of senedd members have done nothing positive for Wales as a whole. I cannot see how increasing the total members to 96 will help our country in any way.

Our NHS is the worst in the UK as is unemployment and child poverty, all things that were in the last labour manifesto, yet all we hear are excuses and blame from Mr Drakeford. It's always someone else's fault.

This Labour government is not fit for purpose all we get are lies and deceit and in my opinion I think the Senedd should be dispanded and power passed back to the UK government.

John Stowe
